

GOV. McCONNELL'S TOUR.

He Is Enthusiastically Greeted in Bear Lake County.

A SHOOTING AT BUFFALO.

A Chinese Laundryman Suicides at Denver.

A Worried Successor to "Ah Sin"—An Editor in Jail—Bunco Steers Bounced—Strange Disappearance of a Blacksmith.

Paris, Ida., Nov. 15.—[Special.]—Governor McConnell reached Montpelier on Monday morning on a friendly visit to this county and was received by the town council.

During the day he attended public meetings at Bennington and Dingle. Yesterday he met with the people of Ovid, Liberty and Paris, and this morning held a meeting at Bloomington. Many of the citizens met him in conveyances as he passed the town, and the meeting houses were not large enough, except in Paris, where the large tabernacle was used, to accommodate the people who came to hear him.

The governor avoided party politics altogether, discussing generally on state interests, and explaining what he considered to be much-needed legislation, recommending the sending of men to the legislature who understood such subjects, and who would work for the benefit of the people. Altogether, the governor's reception was a complete surprise.

A Chinaman Suicides.

Li Yei Chung, a Denver laundryman, was found on Monday morning lying in a pool of blood with his throat cut from ear to ear, in a room back of his brother's store at 201 Market street. He had either been fairly butchered to death by a hand-to-hand blooded assassin, or in self murder had exhibited a nerve and resolution almost incredible to the human mind. The wound was a frightful one, says the Denver News, almost severing the head from the body, entirely cutting the wind pipe, jugular veins, carotid arteries and a number of smaller blood vessels. It extended nearly three-fourths of the way around the neck, and to drive the knife to such a depth along such a space required a force that it seems almost impossible for a man to exert on himself.

And yet, the circumstances of the case as developed by detective Leyden would seem to render the theory of murder which most naturally suggests itself from the nature of the cut and the proverbial bearing in which the Chinese hold the crime of self-murder entirely out of the question.

But the brother of the dead man disproved the theory, saying: "My brother, kill himself sure, all same white man do it. Spore high-blinder like you say, where dog all time? Him was a good fellow, a victim all night. Me no wake up. All light, no fight!"

If the deceased really did die by his own hand, it is the first case of Chinese suicide known in the United States. Even in their own country it is an almost unheard-of crime. The traditional hard-kart, or self-disemboweling, is a victim confined to the Japanese, and even when indulged in by a Chinaman, it is practically a religious rite. It is the only method of self-murder by which the soul is unharmed. For a Confucian to cut his own throat is, therefore, a sacrifice almost unparalleled.

A Shooting at Buffalo.

Buffalo, Wyo., Nov. 15.—Last evening about 8 o'clock ex-Sheriff "Red" Angus, the present proprietor of the Occidental hotel, shot "Ararapahoe" Brown in the left breast on the sidewalk in front of the hotel. The trouble grew out of a board bill of $3.50, which Brown repudiated, reporting he would settle by thrashing Angus. The two parties met yesterday morning, and Angus demanded payment of the account, which Brown refused and in the ensuing altercation Angus fired two shots, one taking effect. Angus gave himself up and at the preliminary hearing here today waived examination, being bound over to the district court, which opened yesterday. The bullet in Brown's chest was not yet recovered and although the wound will apparently be harmless, it may result seriously.

Both parties are old frontiersmen and celebrated characters.—Leader.

The Jim-Jams Caused It.

Lloyd Whiting, a Lupton, Colo., physician, struck town Sunday afternoon with a "jag" of fair proportions. He at once set about filling himself up and in a short time landed in the city jail. Early yesterday morning Policeman Dietrich noticed that the man was bleeding profusely. Doctor Marston was at once called in. He discovered the wound made a victim attempt at suicide. He had stabbed himself three times with a case knife, one of the wounds being quite serious.

Whiting was on the verge of delirium tremens when he reached the jail and was closely watched, but yet he managed to make an attempt on his life that would have been successful had the worn case knife been possessed of a sharper point. At last accounts he was resting fairly well and his recovery was expected.—Leader.

A Successor to "Ah Sin."

Sunday Sheriff Charles Frazer received a dispatch from Rock Springs requesting him to arrest a Chinaman on the arrival of No. 8 in this city, says the Laraine Boomerang. Deputy Sheriff Dugan went down to the train and found the man and took him to the county jail. Sheriff Tom Whitmore was in the city and the prisoner was turned over to him and he took him to Rock Springs on the afternoon train.

The Chinaman was arrested, charged with larceny of a white man at Rock Springs out of several hundred dollars. It is claimed he used two Chinese coins which were nicely fitted together and were very deceptive under manipulation to the fellow who let on them. He retained Neils E. Corbitt to defend him and Mr. Corbitt left for Rock Springs Sunday morning, and a hearing was probably had there today.

A Blacksmith Disappears.

Sam Roy, a blacksmith at the V. & T. shops at Carson, Nev., disappeared immediately after being paid off last Friday. His wife, who is anxious about him, desired information as to his whereabouts.

He Drew a Gun.

A seven-year-old pupil in the Truett public school several days ago drew a revolver on his teacher and was dismissed from the school as being too bad a boy to attend the institution. The teacher should have given him a good flogging before expelling him.—Nevada State Journal.

An Editor Jailed.

J. O. Dunbar, editor of the Arizona

Gazette has been adjudged guilty of contempt, and sentenced to sixty days' jail and a fine of $200. The gentleman had seen fit to criticize the district at Tucson, Arizona, and believing that he was right, refused to take it back.

Another One in Denver.

An unknown man killed himself at the Palace lodging house on Blake street on Monday. He was about 25 years of age. He said he had but 29 cents left in the world, and with this he bought a bed, took morphine and ended his troubles.

Bunco Steers Bounced.

Forty or fifty bunco steers on their way from Chicago to the Midwinter fair stopped at Tacoma, Wash., and commenced robbing the people. The police ordered them to leave town and a number of them promptly obeyed the order.

LITTLE ALL-ALONEY.

Little All-Aloney's feet

And his mother runs to meet

And kiss her toddling feet

He is oh, so weak and small!

Yet what danger shall he fear

When his mother hovereth near

And he hears her cheering call,

"All-Aloney!"

Little All-Aloney's face

Is all aglow with glee

As around that romping place

At a tottering pace

Length, plump, plump!

And his mother's heart is full

Of his unconscious of her cheer—

Only one dear voice he hears

Calling, reassuring,

"All-Aloney!"

Though his legs bend with their load,

Though his feet feel so small

That you cannot help forebode

Some disastrous episode

In that tottering pace

Not a threatening bump or fall

Little All-Aloney fears

But with sweet bravado steers

Whither comes the cheering call,

"All-Aloney!"

Ah, that in the years to come,

When he shares of sorrow's store,

When his feet are chill and numb,

When his cross is burdensome,

And his heart is sore,

Would that he could hear once more

The gentle voice he once heard—

Divine with mother love and cheer—

Calling from yonder spirit shore:

"All, all alone!"

—Eugene Field.

Opinions on Cleveland.

"What is it that is so impressive and overwhelming about your friend, Grover

Cleveland?" said a distinguished politician to the late Daniel Manning, at a time when Mr. Manning was with great skill directing the politics that had Cleveland's first presidential nomination in view.

"I do not know what it is, but I know that it is there," was Mr. Manning's reply.

"My political intuitions are infallible," said Governor Tilden, after a single interview with Mr. Cleveland,

"and I am of opinion that this man is of somehow coarse mental fibre and disposition, but of great force and stubbornly honest in his convictions."

"His name should be Petros," Mr.

Blaine once said of Mr. Cleveland, "for when he has once formed opinions he stands upon them as if upon a granite foundation."—McClure's

Magazine.

Guy Fawkes Day in New England.

It may surprise many readers to know that any observance of the old

English Guy Fawkes day, of Guy Fawkes day, is held in our own day in America; yet such is the case. Bonfires are still lighted on the 5th of November in New England coast towns by boys who have not the slightest notion of exciting and picturesque event in English history and the old time English holiday that they thus commemorate. In Newbury-port, Mass., it is still celebrated, and in Portsmouth, N. H., and Newcastle, N.

H. In the latter town it is called

"Pork Night," an absurd and meaningless corruption of Pope night. It is not many years since child November

5th in Gloucester and Marblehead saw

"Guy Fawkes" bonfires on every hill—independent.

Not Measured by Feet.

The following incident I heard related at a recent banquet. Captain

Wimans of Rhode Island was there.

He is a venerable looking, but lively old gentleman, with white hair flowing down over his coat collar and with a face resembling that of the late Henry

Ward Beecher. The toastmaster arose to introduce Captain Wimans and jokingly said: "The captain hails from that famous state of Rhode Island. Let me see, how many square feet are there in Rhode Island, captain?"

Quick as a flash the little old gentleman was standing, and with his white hair flowing over his shoulders he exclaimed:

"Rhode Island is not measured by feet, sir, but by heads!"—Seattle Post.
